Frank Mastalski Named New President of Link Staffing Services

Houston, TX (July 8, 2010) – Link Staffing Services, a national provider of staffing and productivity solutions, has named Frank Mastalski as its new president effective July 4th, 2010. Mastalski has already been serving as COO for Link and will now take on the joint role of President/COO. The new position is a result of the retirement of Ike Steele who has been president of Link since 1995.

After spending 19 years of successful leadership in staffing with Norrell, Mastalski joined Link in February 2000 as the Regional Vice President. Throughout his tenure with Link, Mastalski has had direct responsibility for the growth of individual franchises as well as corporate offices and the implementation of LINK's programs and policies.

"Since joining Link, Frank has been involved in all areas of the business and provides invaluable insights contributing to the growth of our company," said Karen Pitts, Co-CEO for Link. "We feel very fortunate to have someone with Frank's talent, experience, and wisdom stepping into the role as President and leading Link as we grow."

Mastalski's primary responsibility as President/COO is for the strategic direction of LINK, which includes its national franchise and corporate development. Additionally, he will work to ensure compliance with Link's policies and the smooth operation of both franchise and corporate offices.

"These are very exciting times for Link," said Mastalski, "I am looking forward to this challenging new role and being involved in Link's continued growth and development."
