Link Staffing Recognized as top “Military Friendly Franchise” by G.I. Jobs Magazine

Houston, TX (May 27, 2010) – Link Staffing Services has recently been named one of the top “Military Friendly Franchises” by G.I. Jobs Magazine in their May issue. The list honors the top seven percent of franchises that are offering the most incentive to recruit America’s veterans as franchise candidates.

The list was compiled through exhaustive research in which G.I. Jobs polled thousands of franchises nationwide. The “Military Friendly Franchises” list helps to inform veterans about franchise systems that offer the best incentives and training. It also identifies the franchises with the highest number of veteran franchisees.

Link Staffing Services offers a 25% reduction of the initial franchise fee to qualified military veterans. Link is also a member of the International Franchise Association’s (IFA’s) VetFran Program, which helps to promote special franchise opportunities to veterans.

“Offering special incentives to veterans gives Link the opportunity to add quality franchisees to our system,” said Brandon Campbell, Director of Franchise Development at Link Staffing. “Link has a strong concept and solid systems to offer potential franchisees and that, along with our commitment to our values, makes us a good match for veterans looking for a great franchise opportunity. “

Link Staffing, a national provider of industrial staffing and productivity solutions, began franchising in 1994 and now has 50 offices nationwide. Link specializes in providing skilled crafts & trades, light industrial, semi-skilled and general labor workers for industrial, commercial and retail clients.

Link is on course to have franchises in all 50 states in the next few years. Link currently has numerous markets available throughout the country to franchise and is excited about partnering with veterans to help grow the concept nationally.
